Blygold (UK) LTD.

Blygold products and services are used all over the world in numerous and unique situations. Although often very different, they all have one element in common. When it comes to maintenance, service and operation of its HVAC equipment, the owner of the installations gives priority to a healthy indoor climate, a low energy consumption, a reliable installation and sustainable solutions.

You can see from the graph when the coils were treated. The red trace is the condensing temperature and the green trace is the fan operation (the spikes show when the fan is off).

We have an excellent history working on Data Centres, Airports, Transport, Construction, Offshore, Marine, Powerplants, Sport Facilities, Museums, Hotels, Hospitals, and Office Buildings (Case studies are available).
